General Community Information

Some time ago, I mentioned in an e-mail that three San Francisco police officers had been activated for military duty, and two of them had already been deployed to the Middle East. It is no coincidence that all three of these officers came from one assignment, Bayview Station. Today, following eleven months of deployment in both Iraq and Afghanistan, Officer George Ferraez returned home to San Francisco and reported for duty in the Bayview. He will be on vaction until the middle of Feb. We welcome Officer Ferraez back home, and thank him for his service to our country overseas.

Bayview Transportation Improvements.

I went to the web site last night. There is a button that allows you to listen to a short recap of the day. Deputy Chief Suhr told us that there was an animal scare and that some of the guides took off running. One fell and received a compound fracture to his wrist. DC Suhr and Capt Bruce were able to render first aid, however they wen't able to get an ambulance, the guide had to walk three or four hours back down the hill for medical treatment. The amnimal scare was some wild elephants in the area.

They expect to hike for five or so hours today.

Crime Info

This following case started on the 11th. It was a reported missing Juvenile. Officers received the report on the 11th around 7pm. An 11-year-old girl did not come home. Two officers started a search. They searched the areas the girl was reported to hang out at or visit. By the end of their tour of duty she had not been located.

On the 12th an officer from the day watch took over the continuos search.

This officer contacted all the appropriate agencies in an attempt to locate the juvenile. Having no luck she began her search. She went to the school and spoke with the principal. The officer then received information that the missing girl may have stayed with a friend. The officer did in fact find where the juvenile slept, however the mother told the officer that her daughter and the missing juvenile left for school earlier, but the officer knew they never arrived. The officer then went to stonestown mall and walked every inch contacting merchants trying to locate the juveniles. The officer continued to search. At 1700 hours the officer called the mother to make contact and the mother told her that she just picked up her daughter at school.

We are glad everything worked out.

Remember if someone is reported missing and then returns, for whatever reason, please call us right away so that we can stop our search and redirect our services.

Poss. Of Cocaine for Sale, Prob. Viol -- 01/13/05, 4:15pm, 1100 blk Palou Known narcotics dealer was observed leaving a residence on Palou St. This particular person has an active stay away order for that specific address.

He was arrested for violating the court order. The officers conducted a probation search of the residence.

The probationer's 2 year old son was in the residence. The lessee arrived and proclaimed to be the girlfriend of the probationer and the mother of the child. She started yelling obscenities at the officers. Despite her behavior the officers were glad she arrived so that she could take custody of the child. The subject was booked for the probation violation, and possession of cocaine for sale. (050048925)

Meth Offense ? 01/13/05, 2:55pm, 100 Blk of Thomas Officers observed a double-parked vehicle with now occupant. The doors were unlocked and the engine was running. The officers observed a baggie of suspected Methamphetamine on the front seat along side a scale. The paperwork for the car showed the car was recently purchased by, guess who, a subject that had gone into the corner store. The subject was located, arrested and booked. (050048420) PS the car was towed.

Burglary, Flat under construction, -- 01/13/05, 11:30pm, 1000 blk Mississippi

Officers responded to a call about a burglary. As they arrived they saw a  $\hspace{1cm}$ suspect matching the description given. An alert citizen/victim called the  $\ensuremath{\mathsf{L}}$ police. The victim also positively identified the suspect. The victim signed an arrest form and the subject was transported to the station. The subject gave the officers information that belonged to his brother. The officers identified their subject through the mugshot computer and then charged him with delaying the investigation along with the burglary. Turned out he was on parole, so the nest build he will be entering is jail.

Trespassing, Warrant Arrest ? 01/13/05, 9am, 1000 blk Fitzgerald Officer responded to a report of squatters in the residence of an unoccupied apartment. This is an ongoing problem with vacant units and squatters. I do not want to describe the condition of the apartment. The officer recognized one of the occupants because he was cited earlier for  $\ensuremath{\mathsf{C}}$ the same offense. This person was booked for trespassing, a continuing offense. Another subject tried to give the officer a phony name, but when confronted with the fact that if the officers were not able to identify the person they would have to be booked rather than cited. The person quickly  $% \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) +\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) \left( 1\right) +\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right$ gave up their real name. The only problem with her real name was that she had a warrant out of San Mateo so the officers had to book her anyway. Two other subjects were cited and released, advised not to return to the apartment. (050046866)

Stay away order viol. ? 01/13/05, 6:40am, 1200 blk van Dyke This incident has been going on for awhile. This is a landlord tenant dispute that has gone sour. Both subjects have emergency protective orders against each other; however one is supposed to stay 75 yards away form the other. The officer's investigation showed that this person violated the order and there was no other solution but to book the individual. (050046402)

Driving, no license issued ? 01/13/05, 3pm, 1000 blk Fitzgerald Officer observed a vehicle with no plates, front or back. The vehicle was stopped and the person stated the he did not have a license. The computer agreed and the subject was cited and release and the vehicle towed. (050048373)

Terrorist Threats, Harassing calls ? 01/13/05, 1400, several occasions A victim came to Bayview station to report these phone calls. She stated that the calls have been numerous and the person muffles his voice. While  $\ensuremath{\mathsf{W}}$ at the station two officers listened to one of the calls. The suspect stated that her days were numbered and the he was going to get her and her family. The Sgt. Then took the phone and told the caller that this was police and that the call was being trapped. The call was from a restricted line so there was no caller id. The victim believes it may be an ex boyfriend but couldn't be positive. A report was made and the Lt. of the General Work detail was notified. He relayed some important information to us. If you are receiving these types of calls you can request your service provider to trap the calls to your phone. Once this is done your provider  $\ensuremath{\mathsf{prov}}$ can forward the information to the police department for investigation. (050043890)

Stay Away order viol. Prob. Viol., -- 01/13/05, 6pm, 3rd and LaSalle Officers were in the area when they observed an individual that hey knew was ordered by the court to stay away from 3rd and McKinnon. He was within 150 yards of that area. They arrested him for the violation of the stay away order, a probation violation, and loitering for the purpose of narcotics violations. (050045175)

Warrant arrest ? 01/13/05, 11am, unit blk of Bridgeview Officers knew a subject had a warrant and used this address. They went there and served the warrant and the subject was booked at Bayview Station.

Shots fired ? 01/13/05, 4:30pm, 3rd and Quesada Several shots were heard coming from the area of 3rd and Quesada. Several callers called this in, however when the officer arrived on the street several people told them nothing had happened. The officer made contact with some cooperative citizens who told them what had happened. There were other callers who stated that they heard some males talking about the  $\operatorname{\mathsf{qun}}$ and the fact that it was jammed. Officers  $\operatorname{did}$  locate at least two rounds that penetrated residence; there were no injuries. Officers recovered a round and booked it into evidence. (050048840)
