General Community Information

Some time ago, I mentioned in an e-mail that three San Francisco police officers had been activated for military duty, and two of them had already been deployed to the Middle East. It is no coincidence that all three of these officers came from one assignment, Bayview Station. Today, following eleven months of deployment in both Iraq and Afghanistan, Officer George Ferraez returned home to San Francisco and reported for duty in the Bayview. He will be on vaction until the middle of Feb. We welcome Officer Ferraez back home, and thank him for his service to our country overseas.
