Crimes and Law Enforcement

THE BELOW LISTED INCIDENTS WERE SUBMITTED BY INDIVIDUALS OF BAYVIEW STATION:

Thursday, November 9, 2006 - 12:43 PM - Possession of Cocaine, Transportation of Cocaine, Kirkwood and Mendell Streets - CS# 061 197 230 & 061 197 365 - This story somehow missed our last issue but must be shared. Sgt. Weathersby and Officer Scott responded to a call from a man that said that he was hiding out from someone that wanted to kill him. He said he was behind a home on Kirkwood Avenue. Officers were unable find the man or the person that the man described that was hunting him. The man called 911 again and told dispatchers that he was still hiding. Additional officers joined in the search and found the man in a set of bushes. They also found crack cocaine on the man and lots of it.

The man told police that he bought some crack from a dealer. He saw that the dealer had a few large bags of crack and took it and then ran. The dealer then was driving around looking for him. The man obviously scared that he would be killed called the police, but in the excitement he must have forgotten to get rid of the narcotics.

He was transported to Bayview Station. When the officers arrived at Bayview Station they saw a car parked illegally in front of the station. Inside the car was the drug dealer. He was detained by the police. The dealer gave permission for the police to search his car. Inside the car was more crack cocaine, a scale, and packaging materials. Both men, from San Francisco were booked for numerous narcotics related charges. The dealer declined to press charges on the man for stealing his crack. For obvious reasons both men were kept separated while in custody. It was later learned that the dealer was watching the police detain the man that was hiding out.

WEDNESDAY 11/15/2006, 6:15PM, 100 block of Bayview Street - Robbery with Force, Aggravated Assault, Hit and Run Arrest (Case # 061220342)
Officers Bernal and Foss responded to Bayview Street regarding a report of a woman being assaulted. Once they arrived they found the victim who told them that her daughter had stolen a set of car keys from her and left the house. The woman said that she ran outside and tried to stop her daughter from taking her truck but to no avail; instead the girl began punching her mother in the face until her mother fell to the ground. The girl then sped away in the truck towards 3rd Street. A nearby witness saw the whole thing and called it in.

Minutes later, Ofc Brunner was waved down at Revere and Ingalls by a man regarding a hit and run accident. It turned out to be the woman's truck and the description of the driver from witnesses at the scene of the accident matched the daughter's description; they reported that she had fled down Ingalls towards Oakdale Avenue. Numerous Bayview Officers responded to the area to search for the daughter but they were unable to find her.

Ofc Reynoso was patrolling along Oakdale Ave and Griffith St when he radioed that he had found a woman passed out on the sidewalk and asked for an ambulance. San Francisco Fire Department medics came to the scene and revived the woman. The woman identified herself as the daughter involved and Ofc Reynoso radioed this information to Ofc Bernal and Foss, who placed her under arrest.

The daughter was taken to San Francisco General Hospital and treated by doctors there. While at the hospital, the daughter told Ofc Bernal that she had been using methamphetamine. Once she was treated by the doctors and medically released, she was booked into custody at County Jail. Ofc Bernal and Foss also requested a psychiatric evaluation for her.

A mother's love knows no bounds: she declined to bring charges against her daughter. But as this case shows, drugs make it impossible to recognize who loves you.

WEDNESDAY 11/15/2006, 11:44AM, 2000 block of Keith St - Possession of a Weapon by a Prohibited Person, Possession of "Crack" Cocaine for Sale, Probation Violation Arrest (Case #061219088)

Ofc Aherne, Solares, Rightmire, Lyons, Ellis, and Kirchner along with Sgt. Dempsey are assigned to the Bayview Plainclothes Unit, and as experienced officers in the Bayview they are determined to fight the scourge of guns and drugs. So when they received information from a citizen that a man on probation had a rifle they took action.

Under California state law, a person on probation or parole is considered as still serving their sentence and can be searched by police officers at any time without a warrant. Using this provision of the law, the Officers went to the man's home to conduct a probation search. When they entered the house they saw the suspect and a female friend sitting on the couch in the living room with marijuana and methamphetamine on a dinner tray in front of them. The suspect, his friend, and three others inside the house were detained without incident. The Officers found the rifle in a bedroom - it was loaded. Also found in the bedroom were more narcotics, scales, and other drug paraphernalia that indicated that the drugs were to be sold.

A records check showed that the suspect's female friend had a warrant for narcotics.

The suspect and his female friend were arrested; the others were released. The suspect and the woman were booked at Bayview Station along with the rifle, the narcotics, and the other evidence.

This case is an example of the old police saying: "Where there are drugs there are guns, where there are guns there is violence." The concerned citizen who made the call wanted to stop the violence. His concern led to direct police action and another gun, drugs and a pusher are off of our streets which just goes to prove that we can't do it without the help of our Bayview citizens.

THURSDAY 11/16/2006, 5:47PM, 300 Bayshore Boulevard - Burglary, False Personation, Fraudulent Checks, Delaying a Police Officer, Warrant Arrest (Case # 061224247)

When Officers Lew and Johnson responded to the store on Bayshore Blvd in response to a fraud report they never imagined that the suspect would wait for them to arrive, much less to find him still making purchases with his fake checks but that's what they found.

It seems that the man has passed fake checks at the store before so when he came in again the Manager called the police. When Ofc Lew and Johnson arrived the Manager told them about the previous incidents. While the officers talked to the Manager they watched the suspect continue to shop and then pay for the items ... with a check, of course.

Once outside, Ofc Lew and Johnson stopped the man and asked him for identification. The suspect gave them what appeared to be a California Driver's License. The Manager brought them a fake check that the suspect had used before and the check he had just written. Ofc Lew noticed that the name on the Driver's License and on the fake checks were the same, and that the signatures on the checks and the Driver's License appeared to be the same. Likewise, the two checks appeared to have different account numbers at the bottom, but the suspect told Ofc Lew that he only had one checking account. All the facts pointed to check fraud, so they had the suspect taken to Bayview Station while they investigated further at the store.

At Bayview Station, the suspicious Ofc Johnson attempted to verify the man's identity based on the driver's license he had given them but found another man's picture on the DMV database. He then fingerprinted the suspect and found his true identity which revealed that he was a parolee wanted for violating his parole.

They then placed the suspect under arrest and read him his rights. The suspect told the officers that he traded drugs for the fake checks and the fake ID. He would then go to stores and buy items with the fake checks, which he would then trade on the streets for cash and other items he needed.

FRIDAY 11/17/2006, 2:30PM, 1300 Fitch St - Illegal Dumping, Maintaining a Public Nuisance, Warrant Arrest (Case # 061227326)

Whenever you think you have a bad job remember Ofc Lavin. Ofc Lavin is one of Bayview Station's permit officers and one of her primary responsibilities is to track down people who think it is OK to pollute our streets and use the Bayview as a place to dump their garbage. So on a daily basis, Ofc Lavin wades through some of the dirtiest places and deals with some of the dirtiest people in town. Interestingly enough, Ofc Lavin loves her job...

So when she was contacted by a Bayview Citizen about the man in the truck dumping debris on Shafter and Jennings she knew that this wasn't his first time. Local residents had called about this man numerous times before but he always managed to escape before police arrived. Ofc Lavin was determined that this would be his last trash run.

She immediately responded to Shafter and Jennings but found that the man and his truck were gone, but he wasn't going to get away that easily. Ofc Lavin began searching and found a truck that matched the description with a man sitting in it. Ofc Lavin recognized the man because she has ticketed him for illegal dumping in the past. The license plate number matched the one that she had been given by the caller (as well as on previous calls). A check on the driver revealed that he had a warrant and she placed the man under arrest.

The citizen who had called then came to the scene and identified the man as the one he had seen dumping garbage. He also told Ofc Lavin that he had seen the man dumping at Shafter and Jennings approximately fifteen times. Due to the fact that Ofc Lavin had cited him for illegal dumping in the past, the fact that the witness identified him as the man he had seen dumping garbage before, and the cost to the San Francisco taxpayer for calling DPW out to remove all the garbage he has dumped in the past, Ofc Lavin determined him to be a public nuisance and charged him for that as well as towing his truck.

Thanks to Ofc Lavin for really "cleaning up the streets!"

Saturday, November, 18, 2006 - Narcotics Arrest, Parole Violation - Newhall Street and McKinnon Avenue - CS# 061 231 270 - Bike Officer T. Dalton was on patrol in the drug plagued area when he spotted a woman that was fiddling with something in her hands. When she saw Officer Dalton she immediately placed what she had in her hands into her pockets. Officer Dalton asked the woman for her name and it was learned that she was on parole. A parole search of her person yielded some crack cocaine. The woman who hails from the Western Addition will now be returning to state prison.

Saturday, November, 18, 2006 - Battery - 17th Street and Connecticut Street - CS# 061 232 488 - Officer Batchelder reports that he and his partner, Officer Cha, responded to the corner of 17th and Connecticut Streets on a report of a fight. Upon their arrival, they found a man that has lying on the ground with an abrasion to his head and possibly a fractured ankle. It was learned that the man was having an argument with a co-worker on the Muni bus about a lost umbrella. They got off the bus when the man struck the victim in the head numerous times. He victim fell down and possibly suffered a broken ankle. The co-worker remained on scene.

Officer Batchelder followed up with the 911 caller and learned who the primary aggressor was. The caller said that the he saw the man with the white cowboy hat punching the victim and the knocking him down. Officer Batchelder arrested the only man with the white cowboy hat. The umbrella is still outstanding.
